Subject Deadline Extended - 2015-2016 Program Call for Lecturer Teaching Fellows

Lecturer Teaching Fellows applications for the 2015-2016 program will now be accepted until Wednesday, July 22nd, 2015 at 5pm.

The Lecturer Teaching Fellows Program at Berkeley provides non-ladder faculty with an exceptional opportunity to work individually, or in teams, to build teaching and learning tools, templates, and resources for both their individual courses and the entire campus community. The program supports Fellows in generating dynamic tools and resources for enriching and/or innovating teaching practices on campus. The tools and resources generated will be highlighted prominently on the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) website (<http://teaching.berkeley.edu>) and disseminated to faculty across campus. Lecturers make outstanding contributions to the high quality of teaching on campus, and this program showcases best practices from this community.

*NOTE: The program is open to new AND previous Lecturer Teaching Fellows (who have not yet participated in this project-based version). If you have previously been a Lecturer Teaching Fellow and are interested in this project-based format, we encourage you to apply.

Ten to twelve lecturers will be selected to participate in a series of workshops/discussions on topics of interest and presentations of work in progress. Applicants may apply as part of a team to develop a project. The program is open to continuing appointees and to “pre-six” lecturers whose expectation is to be long-term/continuing appointees.

We encourage lecturers to take advantage of this unique opportunity to engage with colleagues about teaching issues such as engaging students in large enrollment courses, academic integrity, group work, rubric use and development, improving and evaluating student learning, and integrating technology, to name just a few.

For more information on the Lecturer Teaching Fellows Program, visit <http://teaching.berkeley.edu/lecturer-teaching-fellows-program> for application instructions and <http://teaching.berkeley.edu/project-archive> for a description and sampling of projects from previous participants. If you have any questions, please email the Center for Teaching and Learning (teaching@berkeley.edu) with “Lecturer Teaching Fellows” in the subject line.

Best regards,

Catherine P. Koshland, Vice Chancellor for Undergraduate Education
