

21st Century Liberal Arts Undergraduate Education at UC Berkeley

Competencies:

- Literate: mastery of written and oral expression as a foundation for critical thought and engagement.
- Numerate: fluency in the creation, consumption, and analysis of quantitative data.
- Creative: imaginative engagement with novel and experimental forms of expression that support innovative ways of framing and tackling challenges.
- Investigative: desire to pursue inquiry that pushes beyond received wisdom or familiar convention.

Dispositions:

- Open-minded: eagerness to engage with unfamiliar people and ideas.
- Worldly: ease in our ever more globally interconnected and interdependent world.
- Engaged: commitment to addressing problems that reach beyond one's self.
- Disciplined: a focused sense of personal responsibility for one's learning and life path.